

LOVE MONEY MONEY LOVES YOU

Money talks.
Are you listening?

Sarah McCrum

How it Came About

One day I was doing the exercises at the end of a chapter in a small book called “How to Become a Money Magnet” by Marie Claire Carlyle. The final exercise asked me to write down, “What money wants to tell me.”

I started to write, having no idea whether anything would come out of my pen at all. I was totally surprised to find myself writing automatically, without knowing what I was writing. I wrote almost one page and then stopped.

When I looked at what I had written I was deeply moved by the message and shocked at the same time because it was so powerful and sweet.

The next few days I went back to my notebook and read the words I had written over and over again. Then I decided to try again and found myself writing more.

The interesting thing was that the style was so different from anything I would have written myself that I knew it wasn't me who was doing the real writing.

There are many books and websites these days with various kinds of channeling and other messages delivered from beings in other worlds or dimensions. I decided to publish this with some trepidation, not sure that I really wanted to enter that arena. However, I feel that the information is so simple and valuable that it would be a pity to keep it to myself.

I believe some of it will be familiar but there are parts which bring a new message that I have not heard elsewhere.

How to Use This Book Wisely

When I first started writing this I thought that all the advice it gives would be easy to follow and everything would just happen naturally. After seven years I can say that is both true and not true.

What I love about the advice given all the time by Money is that it is fundamentally easy and also very attractive. Who doesn't want to have everything they would love to have (and often feel they can't afford), or to make money by enjoying more? But whilst it is easy for us to enjoy ourselves it can be very challenging to change habits of being serious and that is what we are being asked to do.

I have gradually discovered from experience that while the book looks and feels like quite a light read that you can get through in a couple of days and feel inspired by, to get value out of it you have to approach it quite differently.

The results do come naturally when you follow the advice, but it is not always easy to really follow the advice properly.

The more I explore what is written in this book, the more I have come to the conclusion that the simplicity is deceptive.

Every instruction is simple, in and of itself, and it is simple to do each little thing you are asked to do. But we are amazingly skillful at avoiding change. We can come up with so many excuses for “just not doing it right now,” or “I’ll do it later,” but later never comes.

So, if you like what is written here and want to learn this new approach, I recommend that you give yourself lots of time to learn and come back to the book repeatedly to remind yourself what you need to practise. Take on one topic at a time and master it, rather than trying to do everything at once and achieving next to nothing.

It may take 2 or 3 months, especially at first, to get to grips with one simple instruction, but the reward when you finally get it will be far more valuable than the money it will bring you. There is no price you can put on wisdom and that is the real prize of learning this method.

Once you become more familiar with the approach it will start to speed up and the benefits will multiply in many different directions.

So do not be disheartened if it seems difficult and slow at first. Persistence and determination to change yourself are more powerful than the worst habit. And it’s worth learning because everything we are being taught here can be applied to other areas of life as well.

Sarah McCrum

Introduction

1

What Money Would Like to Say to You

I would like to tell you to love me.

Smile at me. Collect me. Enjoy me. Feel my power. Spend me. Invest me. Give me. Pay with me. Take me.

I am an energy. I am very powerful and beautiful. I am an incredible web of connections.

I am light. I am not dirty.

You are too afraid of me, as you are of many things.

You can open up and embrace me fully into your life. It is not too late. You can start now.

Just open yourself and say yes.

Be brave. Love me.

Love yourself so you can accept my power, my glory, my light, my beauty.

I am not the devil. I never have been. I am a glorious being of light.

I connect human beings with each other. I am so flexible you can use me to channel your creativity.

Just go ahead. I am waiting for you. You must open your heart. You are too rigid, too afraid and there is nothing to be afraid of.

You will win – not only me but life also.

I am always here to help you. Just accept me and I will come to you very quickly.

There is a lot of me waiting for you. You have chosen to have more.

Don't wait. Just take me. I will love you.

2

You Can't Control Money

I want to tell you to relax. You all need to relax about money. I am not what you think I am. You are so confused by the coins and notes you have made. You cannot see the energy in money.

You must know that I am energy. I am not your material. I am a different kind of material. You can create with me, but you can never destroy.

At the moment you all have completely the wrong idea about me – even the wealthy amongst you. You believe that I control the world and that through me you too can control the world.

But you are never really in control. Even the richest man can be sick or struck down by some insoluble problem. Many people chase me all their lives, but they do not realise that I am transparent and invisible and so flexible and formless that I can elude their every grasp. Never ever believe you can control me because it will drive you crazy in the end.

I am the invisible thread in every exchange between human beings and I hold you together as strongly as a spider's web holds the spider. You can stretch me in every direction as you negotiate your prices but my true value you can never change because it was created in a world you do not understand.

3

Money Will Save the World

Money will save the world because there is so much of it available. It is not limited. It can offer you one path to freedom.

When you stop feeling money is limited and you have enough for everyone and everyone is creating wealth and abundance you will not need strict money any more, but you will still exchange material at many different levels. For now, you only need to know that we are unlimited. We are flowing around you all the time. We are your system of exchange and transaction that holds your societies together.

Every time you pay someone you create a contract between you that allows you to receive. If you can expand this system beyond your current levels, to an unlimited level, you will develop your creativity, your service and your love beyond any understanding you now possess.

Money is not about ownership. It is the fluid of exchange. If you keep to yourself, you can neither give nor receive much and that's why you have so little money. When you give more, you will receive more. That is the law.

4

A New Blueprint for Making Money

I am listening to all of your prayers, your longings, your desperation for money, for more of me. But I have to tell you that I am unable to respond to those kinds of prayers and desperate wishes. I am repelled, or pushed away, by the force of your desire. I am unable to enter the laps, hands or wallets of those who seek desperately.

I am energy. I am light. I am beautiful. I am forever flying, and I can only be attracted to you when you have a certain type of energy that draws me in – a receptivity, without fear or worry or anxiety.

I can tell you without any doubt whatsoever – when you are afraid you cannot have more money, you will lose what you already have, no matter whether you need it or not.

It is not your fault and you have not done something wrong. You have never been taught the correct way to approach me. Now I am here to teach you, simply, how to approach me and how to receive me.

It is not as difficult as you imagine. I travel on lines of energy to those who are open, receptive and able to use me. There is enough of me to make everyone on earth a billionaire and then more – much, much more. You hardly started yet.

So, I want to lay down a simple, modern blueprint for you to make money. I know there are many ways already out there, but they are generally complicated and many people do not succeed as a result.

First of all, please remember all the time that I am not the devil, evil or in any way bad for you. You can do bad things with me if you want – just as you can do bad things with those elements of life you most love and trust – your children, your planet, nature, your soul. But that is because of ignorance, not because you are a bad person.

So, if you are willing to be educated now, please put aside everything else you are doing for a little while and listen to me with full concentration.

The first step is to forget everything you ever learned about money before. This may be the most difficult step of all so we will give you some help, but it is by far the most important so give yourself permission to take the risk and try it out.

The second step is simply to open your heart to receive more money in your life without any calculation as to how you will do that. You do not need to think about what job you need or what sources of money are available to you. In fact, if these are limited, as they appear to most people it is very important to disregard all your current sources and simply focus on being receptive. This means you are simple, natural and you believe that you are already on the way to receiving more money. This may take some trust and the ability to stop yourself worrying about money, but if you decide to do it, it will become easier very quickly. After all, how much money did you ever get by worrying?

Don't be afraid of these instructions. I will keep them simple so all you need is to practise one or two simple things to be successful.

The third step is to do your work sincerely, whatever your job, your responsibilities and your daily activities. It is most important that you never feel panic or nervousness when you are working. You need to release all stress and fear and work in a simple, natural way. Everyone knows how to do this. Everyone knows when they have done a proper job and when they have been a bit lazy. Everyone knows when they are satisfied with their work, just as everyone knows when they have not done their best. Even young children know these things. As adults you need to be honest with yourself about how you work. If you are not satisfied with your approach, please correct it as quickly as you can. You will feel much happier; those around you will feel more positive towards you; and you will immediately start to reap the reward of inner satisfaction.

So, you see the main things you are dealing with are your feelings. They are what stop you from receiving more money.

But beyond your current feelings are your dreams. You all have dreams, some big, some huge. Some of you have tried to stop yourselves from dreaming because you were frustrated not to be able to achieve what you wanted, but this will soon come to an end. Just by reading these instructions you will start to dream again.

The fourth step is to dream big.

Let your dreams run riot, full of vivid detail, colour and liveliness.

Imagine yourself and your life as you want to be – is it much happier, much healthier, living in a different house, a different town, even a different country?

Imagine your family, your company, your community, your planet – how you want them to be.

Give full rein to your dreams and imagination – and always let them run in the most positive, fulfilling direction.

Spend one hour every day in the activity of dreaming and imagining – for whatever you can imagine can become real.

And the big step you now need to take.

Start to believe the dreams are going to come true. Every day make sure that you correct any negative thoughts that tell you otherwise.

Imagine your life is unfolding in front of your eyes, day by day, as you move through it, like a journey you have never travelled before.

You do not need to know any of the details on the way; you just need to move, day by day, step by step, through your life towards your dreams.

Forget old fashioned planning. Look at what needs to be done today.

Always be ready for surprises and opportunities.

Stay open, receptive and full of trust.

Know that you are always on the way to receiving more money.

Correct yourself whenever you feel worried, afraid or anxious about money.

Dream big, bigger and bigger still.

Believe that dreams do come true.

And do what you need to do today as well as you can.

That's it – it's simple – it works, and anyone can do it.

Taking It Further

Sarah McCrum is a coach and trainer and runs courses and retreats about money, inspired by Love Money, Money Loves You. You can check out what's currently available at her website: sarahmccrum.com